sary to pass an act of parliament. If Mitchel had abjured the responsibility enjoined by an allegiance to the Constitution of the United States, instead of acknowledging it as binding not only on his acts, but on his very intentions, it is possible the Black Republican papers might have made some mental or largest in the State, amounting to not less than $80,000, and journalistic reservation in his favor. Had he entered consisting in part of a very extensive assortment of BLACK the iconoclastic ranks of Abolition, and applauded the and colored SILKS, BOMBAZINES; a great variety of Labreaking up of that instrument which divine Providence, dies' DRESS GOODS, a large stock of LADIES' CLOAKS through the fathers of the Revolution, held over him as plain and printed DELAINES, French and English MERINOS, New Hanover County Court, September Term, 1857, a protection and an inspiration, there would have been ALPACCAS, CLOTHS, CASSIMERES and VESTINGS. no bounds to the treasonable adjectives in which he would have been extolled. He chose, however, to boldly avow himself the deciple of American stability and order. The moment he declared himself the impartial friend of the rights guaranteed to all parts of the Union by the Constitution, that moment his past career was misquoted to throw doubt on his present; and the basest analogies instituted between the English Government he sought to overthrow in Ireland, and the Democracy he desired to uphold in America. This was done in the stupid hope of exhibiting inconsistency on his part; while the simplest child knows that American Democracy was born and bred of such antagonism to English rule as he advocated. In fact, he but imitated, as he was inspired by the founder of American Democracy. If Mr. Mitchel thought the American Constitution worthy of imitation in Ireland, surely his for those desirous of purchasing. allegiance to it on its parent-soil is less remarkable than by every scurrilous means, now that he has American- Bank will be taken if desired.

If the announcement of Mr. Mitchel's "Southern Citizen" threw the Abolitionists of the North into delirum, the appearance of that sheet must sober them. Now that he has the ready means of reply, it is doubt ful whether these valliant coxcombs of the political pave will have sufficient courage to see him even on the opposite side of the way.

In issuing the "Southern Citizen," the editors do not believe that it is actually needed, but that there is A.M. room for it. Among Southern journals of all parties there has been manifested of late a more carnest spirit of please be present on that occasion. inquiry into all questions affecting the national, political, and moral interests of the South.

There is room, plenty of room, in which Messrs. Mitchel and Swan may aid in prosecuting and illustrating these inquiries and interests. The Southern Citizen boldly enters on its career in a forcibly written leader, in which the present position of the South is delineated, and the necessity of the revival of the slave trade advocated as the principal means by which Southern success may be consolidated, and the extension of Southern rights initiated. It is argued that a large increase of labor power is needed; thus:

"What hinders the South from manufacturing her little or none. Nature, and the laws which regulate settlement and population, are stronger than our constitutions and our guarantees of non-intervention. The North can pour her myrids into Kansas and never miss them. If we cultivate an acre there we leave an acre untilled here. For every hearth we make to smoke in Kansas, there is a hearth left cold in Georgia or Alabama. Striving to extend our institutions into Kansas, under present circumstances, is cutting a piece from one end of a garment to sew upon the other; it is giving a hungry dog a piece of his own tail to eat.

"On all sides, then, want of labor meets us. It is our sole difficulty; the one and sufficient reason why the South cannot hold her own in the Union.

Nicaragua.—The Washington States has been permitted to copy the following extact from a private letter to a gentleman in that city, dated San Juan, Sept. 27 The letter is from a very responsible source:

"I have learned from parties interested, that last to get powder. As none was to be purchased in the town, the English fleet furnish gratis all the powder that they wanted; and they even went so far as to escort the powder as far as the mouth of the river Cocos, in Segovia. The government have now determined to organize a volunteer coast, force, consisting of seafaring men enlisted for 28 days' drill and training in naval gunnery during the year, and paid a small sum, with free provisions and uniform. What progress has been made in organizing the force, we are not informed; but the plan will doubtless be successful, and thus England will hereafter be provided with a militia of seamen, who like our own volunteer land militia, will be ready at the first sound of war to take up arms in their country's defence, with sufficient knowledge of their duties to be capable of most important service. deceased, hereby netifies all persons indebted to the estate Journal of Commerce.

> REVIEW OF THE WILMINGTON MARKET, FOR THE WEEK ENDING NOV. 5TH, 1857.

TURPENTINE-There has been a steady demand from both shippers and distil' s since our last review, and the receipts have been unusually light, not being sufficient for distilling purposes. We have no change to make on former prices, however, and parcels have generally changed hands Tar $1 50; Bright $1 40a$150; Rosin $1 45; Staves R O Hhd have declined—sales at $30—W O Bbl, prime, $25—W on arrival at $3 for virgin, $2 50 for yellow dip, and $1 50 for hard, $\mathre{\Phi}$ 280 lbs. [We learn that there is an impression throughout the country that sales have to be made on time. but this is not the case, as cash is always paid for this arti-

SPIRITS TURPENTINE-Since our last the transactions in this article have been very small; at the close, however, there is more firmness in the market, and rates show an advance of 2 cents & gallon. The receipts continue meagre, and the stock in first hands is exceedingly light. No sales this morning; 37½ cents is offered, and sellers holding higher. Sales for the week as follows:

morning, and selling from wharf at $8 50 % bbl., in lots. FLOUR-The meagre arrivals of State brands for a few weeks past have caused the stock in store to become ma terially reduced, and the market has ruled quite firm at a shade advance on highest quotation of Thursday last. There has been a moderate enquiry for retailing purposes, but ow. ing to the light stock the sales for the week have been principally in the small way at $6 25 a $6 50 for superfine, and $6 75 a $7 for family-closing at highest rates. The above advance may be attributed to the light stock here, as the advices received from other places by no means warrant it, and should the receipts be worthy of note during the coming week rates must recede. GRAIN .- In Corn there has been nothing done since our last, except in the small way from store. In the absence of receipts the stock in dealers hands has become very light, and we note rather more demand; a few cargoes would find purchasers at a fair price. We quote at 67 a 70 cents ? bushel, as in quality. --- OATS .- Nothing new to report. No late arrivals, and stock in dealers hands is quite small. Quotations nominal. See table .- PEAS .- For Cow there is some enquiry, and market bare; none arriving .--RICE .- In the rough article nothing has been done for some time past, and we omit quotations. HAY .- Since our last we notice the arrival of 325 bales Eastern make, of which 225 do. changed hands at 90 cents & Curtis; with naval stores. 20 100 fbs., 90 days, and balance on terms not transpired; market very well supplied, and dull. No receipts of Northern; in full stock, and demand limited.

LIME .- In good stock, with merely a retail demand existing. We note the receipt on Monday of 2,600 casks, 1600 of which came to a dealer, and balance taken on terms not made public. We quote from store and wharf at $1 a 1 25 acask, in lots to suit.

Molasses .- We notice a good supply on market, and nothing of consequence doing, the sales being principally in the retail way. See table for quotations, as in quantity and POTATOES-Sweet have been brought in rather more freely during the past week, and prices have gone down. We quote sales at 50 a 65 cents & bushel, as in quality. Irish are in light stock, with a moderate demand, and are selling rom store at $3 50 $2 bbl.

PROVISIONS-In N. C. cured Bacon we have very little to with lumber, shingles, &c. report in the way of transactions. The market is entirely bare, and we notice an active enquiry existing. A lot of 1.000 fbs. hams was brought in on Saturday last; and found equick sale at 20 cents # 16 .; -hog round is wanted, and would readily bring a high price-say 18 cents. SALT-No arrivals of Liverpool ground; there is, however, good stock of former receipts on market, and demand limited. We quote from store at 95 cents a $1 $ sack .-Alum is also in good supply, and rules decidedly dull. A cargo of 3,000 bushels was received from Turk's Island a few days'since, and remains unsold.

SHINGLES-None received except small boat loads of Common, which have been taken at $2 50 % M .; dull.

TIMBER-There is little or no enquiry for mill purposes, and the market has ruled quite dull for the past week or two; a few rafts have been brought in, but no sales. See table. FREIGHTS-We have no change to make in prices, and the market continues to rule decidedly dull for coastwise .-Country produce arrives sparingly, and we note a large number of vessels now in port waiting cargoes.
